Associate of Applied Science Degree in Precision Machining

The Associate of Applied Science (A.A.S.) degree in Precision Machining offers adult students small class sizes, curriculum designed by industry professionals, new state-of-the-art equipment and one-on-one work with a career coach. The TAA-Department of Labor funded the development, redesign and adaptation of all machining courses leading to the A.A.S. degree and certificates.

Precision Machining classes are taught in collaboration with Warren Tech High School, the career and technical high school for Jefferson County Public Schools. Classes follow the Warren Tech/Jeffco Public Schools calendar. Deadlines and class start and end dates differ from those of Red Rocks Community College (RRCC). Anyone who has graduated from high school, received a GED, or is age 21 or older may attend Warren Tech by enrolling through RRCC and paying RRCC tuition. Adults attend Warren Tech on a space-available basis. Warren Tech classes are conducted on a block schedule, usually for 15 hours per week. Classes begin each August and end in May. There are two options available for enrollment: Monday through Friday from 7:30–10:30 a.m. or Monday through Thursday from 12:00–3:45 p.m.

Admission Steps to the Daytime Program
